RE: APPOINTMENT OF NEW SANRAL WESTERN REGION MANAGER

Dear valued stakeholder

I trust this letter finds you well.

I wish to inform you that the South African National Roads Agency SOC Limited (SANRAL) is undergoing internal structural changes; changes that are chiefly informed by our evolving mandate and resolve to remain a leading state-owned entity that continues to unlock economic opportunities and build partnerships with the communities that we serve.

Our Horizon 2030 strategy, which is our long-term plan, is part of our proactive response to the changing dynamics of the construction and related sectors with whom we work.

Importantly, Horizon 2030 is motivated by our ongoing motivation to support the growth of a transformed economy and it also contributes to job creation as well as opening up empowerment opportunities for the South African populace.

Consequently, as part of these concomitant initiatives, we also wish to inform you that SANRAL has appointed a new regional manager for the Western Region.

Mr. Randall Cable has dedicated his professional career in pursuing road safety solutions for South Africa's road users.

A registered professional engineer, he holds a Bachelor of Science degree (BSc) in Civil Engineering from the University of Cape Town and a Master's degree in Traffic and Transportation from Texas A&M University. He matriculated at Groenvlei Secondary Senior Secondary School in Cape Town.

Before joining SANRAL as a Project Manager in 1999, Mr Cable was a cadet engineer at the Department of Transport. Prior to his recent promotion at SANRAL, he was the Engineering and Operations Manager at SANRAL's Western Region office.

His was mainly responsible for initiating and managing of a wide variety of projects, ranging from infrastructure projects to Intelligent Transportation Systems (ITS) deployments, including the Cape Town Freeway Management System. He was also SANRAL's National Road Safety Focus Group Coordinator.

Mr Cable is a member of the World Road Association (PIARC) and between 2008 and 2015, he served on the technical committees for Safer Road Operations and Road Safety Policies & Programmes. He has been a member of the South African Road Federation since 2009, and is also a Board Member of the Global Road Safety Partnership of South Africa, where he represents government.

Over the years, Mr Cable has published a range of articles and delivered papers at local and international conferences on, among others, understanding pedestrian activity on Cape Town freeways, understanding the impacts of changing land use patters on road safety, the evolution of pedestrian safety on national roads and promoting road safety for vulnerable road users.

It our sincere and earnest hope that, as a valued SANRAL stakeholder, we will continue in our path of a cordial working relationship in the years to come.

Thanking you in advance.

Yours sincerely

Mr. Skhumbuzo Macozoma
Chief Executive Officer
South African National Roads Agency SOC Limited
